Scotland

The magical Highlands

From Inverness to Fort William, the Caledonian Canal sits at the heart of the Great Glen fault. Surrounded by breathtakingly beautiful hillsides clad in silvery heather, the Canal connects a series of Lochs - Lochy, Oich and Ness - before reaching Inverness, the capital of the Scottish Highlands. Mysterious Loch Ness lies at the centre of your cruise, relax on deck as you pass over the dark waters, and wonder what might be below! Stretch your legs ashore enjoying the clear Celtic air and a dram of whisky in traditional pubs.

Flavours of the region

■ Hearty soups and broths brimming with local vegetables and tasty meats and filling homely cooking such as haggis, dumplings and black puddings can be found in restaurants throughout Scotland. Renowned for having a sweet tooth, the Scots enjoy cakes, sweets and shortbreads at high tea in the afternoon.
